

Texting while driving
Ah yes I know about that
Put your phone away they said
Or else you'll end up all flat

Just a sneak peak
A quick text to send
Lets add an emoji
To send to a friend

Hey look at the light
It's red, it's red
Maybe now is the time
To see what she said

No, no
It wasn't the time
But it's too late now
And all for a chime

I need a solution
There's no time to spare
But really,
The answer was to just be aware

Out of control
I see my car spinning
Is it just me
Or is the light dimming?

I should have put my phone away
I should have kept my eyes up
So many regrets
It was all so abrupt

Was it worth it?
Was it the right time?
The answer is no
And with that, I let go
