

Dear Mom,

I just want you to know that I love you very much! There is a reason that you are reading this letter and I have to tell you that it is not a very good reason. The reason is that my friends and I were leaving Danielle's house and the driver of the car had been drinking. Since the driver had drunk that must mean she most likely lost control of the car and hit something or ended up in the other lane and hit a car coming toward us, either way I'm going to miss you, dad, and my siblings, and I know your going to miss me too. I know that the driver survived and I didn't and I know that it's her fault that I'm not here but just remember everything happens for a reason. I know if the driver hadn't been drinking and didn't lose control of the car I would still be here but just remember that she is still dealing with the remorse of killing me and her still being alive. I f she needs to talk to you and wants to apologize about what happened just be there and listen to her just like you were always there to listen me and help me with advice to get through my problems. I need you to be there from my family and my friends like the strong woman you are and help them through my passing, and I know you are going to need time to grieve too, which will happen as soon and you forgive the driver of the car and just remember all the good times with had together! I love you and send my love to the family and friends and tell them remember all the good times we had together and don't be sad.
