

Arrive Alive

How could you be so selfish? To not only put yourself but others at risk on the road. Kids, teenagers, someone's mother and father. Someone's son and daughter. Willing to take the chance of ending someone's life to avoid the ten-dollar uber ride. To avoid the wrath of your parents when you wake them up in the middle of the night asking for a ride home.

Instead, you get in your car that is full with your friends. You tell yourself you will drive safely and you aren't that drunk. You start the engine...

You hit a car. It had two parents in it that were trying to soothe their newborn baby with a night drive. None of them made it to the hospital. Two of your friends died on impact. The other two are fighting for their next breath.

You wish you had ordered an uber. You wish you had called your mom. You wish you had never started the engine. You are now responsible for the loss of five innocent lives and the grief it will cause their friends and families. The guilt will never go away. It will never be forgotten. You will be consumed with this feeling for the rest of your life and it will ruin you.

Do not drink and drive. You are not only putting yourself at risk.