

How many times have I told you?

Too many

Exactly, why didn't you listen?

I didn't think anything bad would happen

Well, look what happened

Is he alright?

Not this time

Where am I?

Mom?

Where am I? What is this?

How long will it take you to realize

Realize what...

I was in the car too

It wasn't some stranger you hit that day

What do you mean?

I had warned you so many times

Of course, you wouldn't remember

What is there to remember?

Everything, where you were going, who you hit, what caused the crash

Then again now that I'm gone no one will be there to remind you
