

“I Promise”
By Morgan Doten-Bagley

When he would leave, she would always say “drive safe”
And when he would leave, he would always say “I promise.”
When he would leave, she would always say “call me when you get there.”
And when he would leave, he would always say “I promise.”
When he would leave, she would always say “be careful”
And when he would leave, he would always say “I promise.”
And when he did leave she said, “ Come back to me..”
He didn’t reply...
When he didn’t reply, she whispered “you promised..”
Then there was no more “drive safe” “call me when you get there” “be careful.”
And there were no more promises...