

Empty promises

Heart pulsing
Blood dripping
Scattered thoughts
Only leading
To one question

How did I get here?
More so why am i Here?

If only I could turn back time
Maybe my brain would be mine
My hands would be fine
my spine would remain aligned
Will I be fine?

I should've taken it as a sign
Have I arrived alive
Or am I no longer going to thrive
And live a life of those alive

It was so fast
I was having a blast
And now i'm on the ground
Alas,

Was this worth it

The pressure to drink
Inability to think
But my careless mistake
Took ahold of my mind
Begging me to take a chance.

I gave in.
More so,
I gave in
To what I thought would save

My head from thoughts
I couldn't have fought
BUt really
I gave in
To what I thought
Was a sip
More so a cup
Of empty promises

The extstay I believe it gave
Was not enough t o save me from a reality
I could no longer flee.

I laughed until i didn't
Until i understood
My irresivealle
doing
Has brought me to ruin.

I gasp for air
Lights around surrounding me
Sounds of assurance
Buzzing uncontrollably
You'll be fine

I hear

Will i?

My car in shambles
Because i decided to gamble
The chance to arrive alive.

Yet instead, I chose otherwise.

Don't drink, and drive
