

ARRIVE ALIVE

Acrostic Poem by Sam Boone

Alcohol, drugs, cell phone distractions; take heed

Road rules, laws, and safety; give lead

Respect pedestrians, passengers, and all that surround

Imagine a young life lost; irrevocably underground

Vigilant skills and attention; drivers must possess

Expect the unexpected; constantly reassess

At all times behind the wheel; be forever wary

Life is fragile, says every heartbreaking obituary

Ideate handcuffs, prison, regret and fear

Vast is responsibility, that's abundantly clear

Embrace driving morality over unrealistic immortality
